Open Letter to Rep. Joe Heck and Mark Amodei

We the undersigned agree with Americans for Tax Reform's position, outlined below, on the misnamed "Marketplace Fairness Act."

As a constituent, I urge you to vote against any version of an internet sales tax mandate. Such a mandate would harm the economy, provide the incentive for even higher taxes, and would open the door for states to begin taxing across their borders for many different taxes.

An internet sales tax mandate will harm small businesses that rely on the internet to survive. The unregulated internet has provided an irreplaceable platform for small businesses development. The burden of over 9,000 potential state and local tax jurisdictions will discourage small businesses from being established, hurting an economy that is already in need of a recovery.

The precedent set by an internet sales tax mandate would create a precedent for states to tax across their borders for other types of taxes. States should tax those to whom they are accountable. Allowing states to impose tax collection requirements outside their physical borders moves us down a dangerous path.

I hope you will listen to the voices of your constituents, including our own, in this matter. An internet sales tax mandate will harm small businesses and consumers while putting us on a dark path towards unaccountable taxation.

Please let the internet remain the free and open platform that has helped so many businesses grow, and oppose the passage of an internet sales tax mandate.
